

Dear Folke:

Needless to say, I was very happy to receive your Christmas gift. I'm sure that all the boys in the service appreciate your kind thoughts for them and the excellent work you are doing. Last year your little package to me went overseas to my old outfit and the only thing I received was a letter from one of my pals over there, telling me to write a letter to you Folke, thanking you for the cigarettes but he also wanted me to tell you to be more prompt next time, as it did not arrive in time for Christmas. I'm sure that you will not feel that the gift was in vain though for the boys over there really enjoyed them I imagine. Merry Christmas to every one at good old Bryant.
